VOTE! "Its YOUR DUTY and PRIVILEGE"

ALL STARS PUT ON SUCCESSFUL LIT

Small but Enthusiastic Audience.—Every Performer Encored

The performance at the Lit last Wednesday was exceptionally good, but, unfortunately, the turnout was not as large as usual. Those who were there, however, greatly appreciated it as was shown by the enthusiasm with which they called for encores from all the performers.

The meeting opened with an orchestral selection, followed by a vocal solo. Unfortunately, Margaret Shanks who had promised to sing, was prevented by illness, but Helen Armstrong kindly took her place at the last minute. A Bit of Patter, a unique performance by Jack Strachan, and a reading from Tom Sawyer by Geraldine Duclos were greatly enjoyed.

One of the features of the evening was the presentation of two selections by the Madolin Club. It is to be regretted that this was the only opportunity the University has had of benefiting from the efforts of this club. Stan Ross depicted the evolution of popular music by playing Rachmaninoff's Prelude, first "As he would play it," and second, "As it is played." Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shean, adapted to suit a University audience and presented by Gerald Shapter and Frank Halliday, was greatly appreciated by the students. It was with extreme reluctance that the audience ceased clapping when they could not prevail on the performers to continue a little longer. The final item on the programme was another orchestral selection. The orchestra responded to their encore by playing God Save The King.

WAUNEITAS HOLD ANOTHER POW-WOW

Distinguished Braves and Medicine Men at Tenth Annual Banquet

On the thirteenth sun of the month of winds, the Wauneita tribe met together for the tenth time under the peace-pipe (at least, they would have had the peace-pipe if it had not been against Athabasca House Rules to smoke in the Dining-Hall). To music provided by two braves of the friendly tribe of Athabasca, there assembled about a hundred and forty Wauneitas, including the guests of honour, Mrs. Howes (Hon. Pres.), Mrs. Tory, Mrs. Kerr, Mrs. Kiliam (Past President), Miss Missener, Miss Dodd, and Miss Gladstone, and several warriors who had returned from their present hunting grounds to meet the tribe once more. The Honorary Big Chief, Mrs. Howes, called upon many medicine men and braves to speak, and many a grunt of approval was heard as she did so. The Tribe feels that it is indeed a great privilege to have such a wise and kindly chief.

When each had given her counsel, after the "Song of Long Remembrance," the braves returned to their lodges.

FROSH RECEPTION TO SOPHOMORES

Novel Decorations and Excellent Music.—Pond in Lounge Revives Memories

Never before in the annals of this great University has a formal function been acclaimed with such whole hearted and sincere appreciation as that which has just passed. On every side one hears the nicest things said about the wonderful music and the originality shown in the decorative scheme.

When one was ushered into the lounge a strange sight met the eye. How in the world could a moss bordered mirror-like pool be transported from far far away on the Emerald Isle, whence it most certainly must have come, to our own Athabasca. Garlands of shamrocks, bits of fern and all the things one finds in cool secluded dells helped to substantiate the illusion. Truly wonderful.

Passing on one entered the ball room and stopped aghast. Flying about overhead were myriads of balloons with wispy streamers suspended therefrom. Softly shaded lights spread a diffused glow about the hall and—Holy St. Patrick!—wonder of wonders—a shamrock with a halo! Beneath this emblem one beheld a rose-decked bower wherein were ensconced the music-makers. On every side were smiling, happy faces, beaming good will and honest enjoyment. Cares were forgotten and everyone just entered into the spirit of the occasion (especially when the balloons became unfastened in some mysterious manner and the party took on the aspect of a sham battle).

John Cassels

"Quietly prominent and sincerely active," someone remarked of Johnnie Cassels in the Arts Building the other day, and a good descriptive phrase it was of the candidate for President of the Students' Union. Ever since his arrival at Varsity, Johnnie has been a leader; and not in one branch alone. His time has been divided among Athletics, Lit and studies in exactly the right proportion to make him outstanding in each. Although he has been the subject of little publicity, an examination into his record reveals the fact that he has done much to deserve the trust and confidence of his fellow-students.

Johnnie is a Junior—and at the top of the heap. For his class showed its appreciation of his ability and enthusiasm by making him president of the Junior Year. In this office he has gained much experience in executive work in the University. This year he is also Associate Editor of The Gateway, Secretary of the Debating Society, and Assistant Editor of the Year Book. All these positions afford a fine opportunity to gain experience in University student administration.

In athletics his star has shone likewise. He made the Senior rugby team his first year here, and stuck with it the following year, when he received considerable attention by his brilliant backfield work. In the inter-faculty rugby league, he captained the Arts team, winners of the championship cup. In his sophomore year he represented Arts in the distance events at the indoor track meet.

Last year his mark was made in debating, for he made the trip to Winnipeg to represent the U. of A. in the inter-university league. Johnnie is one of the most fluent speakers in the University and has often effectively displayed his wit and oratory in the Debating Society, Students' Parliament and Students' Union meetings.

It is interesting to note that he is one of the two men in the University who have won both an athletic "A" and a literary "A" for distinguished services in these branches of student activities.

Although actively engaged in rugby, debating, Gateway and Lit executive in 1922, Johnnie saw no reason why his academic work should be neglected, and worked his activities so well together that he was one of the two students to finish the soph. year with first class honours standing.

And now as candidate for the highest of student honours he is a particularly happy choice, for he is a veritable store-house of qualities needed by the man who leads the Students' Union. Johnnie has always been a leader because of his ability and his likeable personality. He has had wide experience in student activities, especially in an executive capacity. He understands, intimately, student affairs, because of the active part he has taken in them. He has the knack of making all things go without neglecting any, and distributes his interest and enthusiasm fairly among all activities. Further, he is an effective speaker and his words have weight with, and are respected by staff and students alike.

A cloud of locusts that actually darkened the sun is reported in the Orenburg region, Russia. In several districts grass and grain were entirely destroyed.

AN EXPLANATION

In last week's issue of The Gateway there appeared on the front page an article which was wrongly entitled "Franco-German Question," by George V. Ferguson. The proper title of the article should have been "The Eternal Near East," by H. A. Dyde. We regret the error which was a printer's mistake.

Big Elections Meeting Next Thursday, Mar. 22

Life Histories of Candidates.—Keen Contest.—Only Two Acclamations.—"Pip" Owen, Treasurer; Angus McDonald, Athletic Secretary.

"Bob" Lamb, President of the Students' Union, has made arrangements for a special meeting to be held in Convocation Hall next Thursday afternoon at 4.30, when the candidates for the coming elections will be given an opportunity to express their views on student organizations and state the policies they intend adopting if elected to office.

The Gateway remains absolutely impartial in the contest, and the following write-ups are published as submitted by the supporters of the respective candidates.

FOR VICE-PRES. OF UNION

Marjorie Bradford

Marjorie Bradford needs no introduction to the students of the U. of A. She has been serving them in one capacity or another during the past three years. The Gateway owes her a debt of gratitude for long and faithful services. The members of her year have not forgotten that Marjorie's untiring effort was largely responsible for their victory in the inter-year play competition last season. As Chief of the Wauneita tribe and member of the Students' Council, Marjorie Bradford has shown that she possesses unusual administrative and executive qualities and that she commands the confidence and respect of her fellow-students.

Betty Mitchell

Three years ago a fair wind from Chinook, Alta., passed over the campus and deposited in Pembina Hall the one and only Betty Mitchell. Almost before we knew it, Betty became well known for her dramatic ability, taking leading parts in class-plays and in major plays such as "You Never Can Tell," "Dear Brutus," etc. That Betty Mitchell can be entrusted with the reins of power can be deduced from the fact that she has successfully held positions of responsibility in the Year and Dramatic Society executives and on the Pembina House Committee. And last, but not least, mention must be made that Betty Mitchell is the efficient Circulation Manager of The Gateway.

FOR SECRETARY OF UNION

James Brunton

Jimmy Brunton occupies one of the corners in the triangular contest for Secretary of the Union. During the past three years he has devoted more than sufficient time and service to student activities to need special introduction. On his return from Overseas, where he served as a private, sergeant, and lieutenant with the 46th Bn., Jimmy started a course in Medicine. As a freshman he was elected to the post of secretary-treasurer of his year, and the following year he was re-elected to the Sophomore executive. This year he is a member of the Med Club executive. In dramatics Jimmy has played leading parts in many plays during his career here.

George Bryan

A 4th year Arts and Law student, clerk of the House in the Provincial Older Boys' Parliament, member of the U. of A. debating team in 1920-21, secretary and then president of the Debating Society, member of the Students' Council and Literary Association executive, cabinet minister in the Students' Parliament, and on the repertorial staff of The Gateway for two years—the experience gained in these numerous responsible positions is the best recommendation any candidate for the secretaryship of the Students' Union could wish for. George Bryan, one of the candidates, having occupied all the above posts, possesses the necessary experience to make an efficient secretary.

Gerald Charlesworth

In the fall of 1918 a smart-looking freshman entered the University with a matriculation scholarship. Last spring the same student, in the cloak of a senior, obtained the degree of B.A. with "first class general standing" and he is now completing his third year in Medicine. We refer to Gerald Charlesworth, or "Chub" as he is known to all his friends. "Chub" has always championed the cause of democratic and efficient student government. During the session of 1920-21 he was a member of the Students' Council and also the secretary of the Students' Union, the same position for which he is now a candidate.

FOR TREASURER

"Pip" Owen

Phillip Owen of "Cheer Leader" fame was elected by acclamation as Treasurer of the Union. When it comes to serving the Student body "Pip" is an old timer, and we can feel certain that as chancellor of the exchequer he will again prove his executive ability. This year "Pip" is president of the Commerce Club, manager of the Rugby team, and our representative on the Alberta Branch of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

Jack McClung

The nomination of Jack McClung for the office of Chief Justice of the Students' Court has given the student body a unique opportunity. Never before has a man of Mr. McClung's varied experience in student affairs occupied that position. The congenial John has been an outstanding worker every year of his university course. He has managed athletic teams, taken part in the Dramat and in the French plays, represented the University of Alberta on her debating teams, and worked up through the editorial staff of The Gateway to the position of editor-in-chief.

In the Students' Court Jack has acted as defending counsel, prosecuting counsel, and on occasion has even appeared as a prisoner.

There is not a man in the University who is so fitted for the office of Chief Justice, an office of trust, demanding as it does the qualities of sympathy and understanding and a broad knowledge of human nature. Nor is there a man in the University whose record entitles him to greater consideration on the part of the students he has so faithfully served.

Sigvald Nielson

Sigvald Nielson is a 1922 graduate in Arts from the U. of A. Last year he was the able president of the Law Club which was then started. Sig is also an honours History student and a member of the Historical Club. This session he has been Prosecutor to the Students' Court, which position he fitted admirably. In Law Sig is "first class"—fine points a specialty—and besides having acted as a judge on occasions at the moot courts, and having obtained last year 1st class general standing in Law, his legal ability is of no mean order. The Chief Justice of the Students' Court is a position which requires a man of this type.

FOR SHERIFF

"Bill" De Mille

In spite of the severe wounds he received at the Battle of Cambrai, the medical men have pronounced William De Mille as perfectly fit to act as Sheriff of the Students' Union. With the experience he gained in France as a machine gunner, Bill would make a fearless enforcer of the law. In addition to his legal studies Bill has this year taken time to act as manager of the Basketball team, treasurer of the Law Club, member of the technical staff of "Dear Brutus," and on the Undergrad dance committee.

Art Jarret

We all saw Med Night about a month ago, and no one could help but be impressed with the form and style of the policeman on the stage who carried out his duties conscientiously. The man who portrayed that part so well is Art Jarret, the same man running as candidate for Sheriff of the Students' Union. Art saw service in France as signaller in the 19th Bn. He is now in his second year Medicine and first year Arts; next spring he will be a B.A.

FOR "LIT" PRESIDENT

Helen Armstrong

Helen Armstrong, one of the candidates for the presidency of the "Lit" has a long list of student activities to her credit. She has always been an active member of the Dramatic Society and has repeatedly taken parts in the inter-year plays, in "You Never Can Tell" and in other plays and functions at the University during the past three years. As member of the Wauneita executive, as head of the Women's initiation committee, as exchange editor of The Gateway, and as secretary of the Literary Association, Helen has shown that she is a willing and faithful worker and that she possesses organising ability.

Charles Druitt

Claiming the English metropolis as his home town, Charles Druitt landed in Canada when a youngster. He is a matriculate of Alberta College and is now pursuing an Arts course. All of us remember Druitt by his splendid acting in the Sophomore play and in "Dear Brutus" this year. He undoubtedly possesses real dramatic talent. The fact that he

Jack McAllister

One of the two candidates for the office of President of the Students' Union is Jack McAllister. A glance at Jack's career since he entered the U. of A. is sufficient to make us realize how fortunate we are to have him as presidential candidate.

Entering here in 1915, Jack has acquired a very enviable record for himself. His executive ability was made use of while he was yet a freshman, when he was elected to the office of Secretary of Athletics.

Although only seventeen years of age Jack could not resist the temptation to serve his country so he left the University in 1916 and went overseas. His record as a soldier does not need to be repeated in these columns.

Returning to the U. of A. in the fall of 1919 Jack made his initial appearance as a member of the Students' Council. From that date until the present Jack has been a member of the Students' Council. During the years 1920-1922 he was President of Athletics. This last year he was President of Basketball. The success of this club during the past season speaks well for Jack's ability as a leader. Not only has Jack been a member of the Students' Council, but he has acted as chairman of committees from that body on many occasions, as well as acting on the Committee on Student Affairs.

It is quite evident then that no idle words were used when it was stated that we were fortunate in having the opportunity of making such a man head of our Students' Union. Our President must be a man who is a born leader, one who can work well with his executive, and one who at all times will give his time and energies to the cause of the students. Not only has Jack proven that he possesses all these qualities, but as a member of the Students' Council and captain of our Rugby teams he has shown that he is a man who has the courage of his convictions, the courage to stand up for what is right, and yet able to be fair and square to all. Those who know him will agree that Jack possesses all these qualities.

Who is there that could possibly be more fitted to fill this high office than Jack McAllister. His experience alone merits it, but when to this is added the many other qualifications that this candidate has, it hardly leaves any doubt as to who is the better man.

A vote for Jack McAllister means a vote for good and efficient government.

AMUSING COMEDY AT FRENCH CLUB

Second Year Students Present French Play.—Elections of Officers Next Meeting

The regular meeting of the French Club took an entirely novel form last Wednesday afternoon. Instead of the usual recitation and address, students attending second year French classes presented successfully an amusing play. This innovation made the meeting interesting and entertaining, and at the same time afforded a splendid opportunity to student members of the club to improve their pronunciation and to practise the use of the French language.

"Par Un Jour de Pluie" was the title of the comedy. Gontran, a confirmed bachelor, and his friend Raoul, a ladies' man, had been invited to spend the evening at the home of Madame de Guerandieres. When Adele and Joseph read one of their mistress' letters, we see that Miss Blanche is also invited—for the purpose of meeting Raoul.

When the play opens the two young gentlemen had been caught in a bad rain storm and seek shelter, unknowingly, at the home of Blanche de Vairlettes. Adele and Joseph fit them out in patched, misfit clothes of the gardener, all of which Gontran takes as a joke, but which puts Raoul in a very bad temper. So when Gontran wished to thank the lady of the house, Raoul blankly refused, saying that she was probably an "old dromedary" and declaring that his friend could make

CHANCELLOR AND SENATORS RETIRE

Chancellor and Five Members of Senate Retire on Expiration of Office

AGRICULTURE IN BRITISH INDIA

Address by Dr. Lehmann.—Ag. Club Elections.—John Walker President

The last meeting of the Agricultural Club, held on Tuesday, March 13th, proved to be one of the most interesting of the year. The members were addressed by Dr. Lehmann, the founder and only life-member of the club. Dr. Lehmann's position as head of the Department of Agriculture in Mysore for several years made his address on "Agriculture in India" very interesting. His description of native methods of farming, of farms as large as a classroom, of the irrigation of the paddy-fields, and of cultivation with sixteen-cent plows, carried his hearers away from Western Canada for the evening.

The remainder of the meeting was taken up with the club's election of officers for next year. The election returns showed Prof. J. McGregor Smith elected as Hon. Pres. of the club; John Walker, President; W. W. Miller, vice-president; D. A. McCannel, secretary; Mark Mann, 3rd year rep.; and Roy Roberts, 2nd year rep. The meeting concluded with three cheers for the retiring president, W. R. Brown.

Following the meeting, one of the most delightful social events of the season, as the Society Editor would say, took place in Room 16, Alberta College. We only regret that the above-mentioned person was not present to do the affair justice. However, possibly you can imagine Elliott burning the toast, Fethers stirring the soup, Murdoch scrambling the eggs, Addison tasting the cocoa, and Doughty, Smith, Mail, McCannel, Biraud, Martin and Mossman assisting in all the operations with timely suggestions.

As guest of honour, Dr. Lehmann showed by his ability to balance a bowl of soup, a slice of toast, a cup of cocoa and a piece of cake simultaneously that his position as "Daddy" of the boys has not been won without considerable experience.

THE ELECTIONS

Most of the nominees have already served with credit on different executives and have demonstrated their ability to perform efficiently the multifarious duties that accompany their positions of trust. The University of Alberta may well feel complimented on the nominees who have received support and endorsement. And there is no better means of showing to the eventual holders of offices the responsibility and importance which is attached to these offices than by casting as large a vote as possible next Friday.

The nomination lists are already posted and the interval between now and election day will doubtless be characterised by much activity. But the character of this activity should be in accord with the highest university ideals. Friendships and personal differences and prejudices should be forgotten. The abilities, qualifications, and sense of public duty of the various candidates should be discussed impartially and impersonally. A keen electoral campaign is desirable but let it be clean, fair and honourable.

The University has made very creditable strides within the last few years in respect of the increased concern which is evident over the outcome of the elections. It is also satisfying to see in contrast to previous years that the great majority of offices are being contested. Acclamation is, however, no indication of disinterest; on the contrary, it may be a sign of pre-eminent contentment. Whereas elections, on the other hand, are indications of interest as well as efficacious means in promoting enthusiasm and in arousing the indifferent student to a proper realisation of his duties not only to himself as a student voter but also of the responsibility of electing to office the type of student who not only acquires himself with honour but the one who will most likely render faithful service to his Alma Mater and to the interest of his fellow students generally.

It is highly gratifying to know that arrangements have been made to give an opportunity to the different candidates for office to speak before the students and lay before the many their respective platforms. The meeting to be held in Convocation Hall next Thursday afternoon will afford an effective means of getting acquainted with the respective candidates, and of listening to any proposals or suggestions they may have to make with regard to student activities in the future. Attendance at this meeting will mean the acquiring of additional knowledge which should assist us in electing a strong and efficient government.

GIRLS! AND BOYS!

Nominations are out, and now is the time everybody should consider and weigh the qualifications of the candidates. Do you realise that it depends upon YOU personally, as to whether or not we have really representative officers? It is your right and your privilege to choose next year's administrative body, and to see the Union in the hands of those whom you consider will uphold the ideals of the University. But it is not merely a privilege to be taken or left as we choose, for these elections and the results of them are of immense importance. What kind of men and women do we want at the head of things?—to represent student thought, to lead student activities, and work for the best of Varsity ideals?

It is so easy to sit back, and let the other fellow do it all, but just think what a difference YOUR vote might make.

Come on, girls! and you too, boys! Let us all vote!

THANKS

As the various clubs and societies are concluding their work for the year, and old executives are handing over the reins of government to new administrators, the air is filled with expressions of appreciation for the efforts which have been made during the past term. There is, however, one person whose untiring work is likely to be passed unnoticed by the majority of students because it is done so unostentatiously. The person referred to is Prof. A. L. Burt who has so unselfishly devoted his time to the training of the students' choir. We have been, indeed, fortunate in having a willing friend with such eminent ability in this line and we feel that we voice the sentiments of the whole student body when we tender him our hearty thanks.

LITTLE CONSIDERATION

Many who appear to be unkind are merely thoughtless. This is probably the case with those who create unnecessary disturbances on the first floor of Athabasca without any consideration for the patients in the hospital below. Invalids are very easily disturbed and loud tramping or shouting in the corridors above often prevent them from getting their much needed rest. It is felt that we need only call this to the attention of the residents and the necessary caution will be taken. Think of the other fellow—that's all!

OUR LEADERS

What type of student makes the best leader? A brief answer to the question cannot be adequate, for many factors enter into the characteristic of leadership. But since we are now busy selecting our leaders for next session it may not be out of place to

Prof. Downs—"This dog's temperature was raised experimentally to 120 degrees."
Halpin (from the gods)—"Hot Dog!"

Prof. Smith: "What is ordinarily used as a conductor of electricity?"
Shapter: "Why, er-er."
P. S.: "Correct. Now tell me what is the unit of power?"

Shap.: "The what, sir?"
P. S.: "That will do. Very good."

Signor Brignoli caused much merriment when he came forward one night to apologise for the non-appearance of Christine Nilsson.

"Madame Nilsson sees a little horse," he said. Noticing a ripple of laughter among the audience he repeated the statement that Nilsson was "a little horse; had a little colt."

Whereupon a facetious occupant of the gallery brought down the house by crying:
"Well, then, trot her out!"

It is reported of one of the Scotch curlers that on the recent visit to Canada he found himself in the sad position of having to pay out some money; when he drew his purse from his pocket and opened it reluctantly, three moths flew out.

Professor: "Where should the world's fair be held?"
Student (dreamily): "Around the waist."

Drake (meeting co-ed.): "Good morning."
Co-ed.: "Good morning—a fine day for young ducks."

L-c-l. (in geology lab.): "I wonder if there is any mail?"
I-e-e: "A little male would be very acceptable just now."

"John" is a very popular name these days. "John" Cassels or "John" McAllister—somebody is always "Jaw'n" about one "John" or the other. But the next time anybody starts "Jaw'n" about "John" to us we are going to knock his "Jaw'n". By the way, whichever "John" does the most "Jaw'n" will be the lucky "John" in the elections.

An Athabasca Optimist

At eight each night I study,
At nine I gaze over the street.
At nine-thirty a light glows ruddy;
But at ten I have lost my petite.

She takes off her hat at nine-fifty-one,
Then her shoes or her socks (I'm not certain),
And at nine-fifty-six (I'm a son of a gun)—
You've guessed it—she draws down her curtain!

Still at eight each night I study,
And at nine I've a room-ful of guests;
For they believe, as I believe,
That some nite she's gonna forget.

"If Mr. Parney will remove his hat I will continue, and point a concrete example."
This enlightens us as to Parney wearing spats at the Freshman dance.

Gee, you're a Gem.
Well, would Gillette me kiss you?
Say, kid, I'm Everready.

Student—"I want the life of Caesar."
Mr. Cameron—"I'm sorry, but Brutus was ahead of you."

Our definition of a lipstick is "something that adds a new flavour to an old pastime."

Sweet Young Thing (driving through suburb):
"Would you like to see where I was vaccinated?"
He (with enthusiasm): "Sure."
S. Y. T. (pointing to house which they had just passed): "Well, right in there."

Mrs. Corbett—"Did you notice the scarf that the girl with the terrible short skirts had on?"
Mr. Corbett—"Did she have a scarf on?"

At the Tuck—"Two four-minute eggs, Charlie, and make them fast. I've got a class in half a second."

At the Skating Carnival
"Are you Appius Claudius?"
"No, I'm Anappius L."

"I thrashed Wintemute last night for kissing my fair one."

"But you kissed him."
"Well, it's his business to thrash me for that. That's his affair; I haven't anything to do with it."

mention one of the essential attributes of leadership, viz., initiative.

Education for the purpose of acquiring knowledge is not worth while. The measure of education is the capacity to develop. The development of initiative is of infinitely higher importance than mere learning; it is our only effective weapon for dealing with the problems of the future. The power to originate is a prerequisite of success. The broad-minded man, the all-round man, the man endowed with a faculty for happy discrimination is the real student.

To possess initiative means to have the quality of leadership. Next Friday, in marking the ballot, our aim should be to favour the candidates with initiative, the candidates who will be able to face the students' problems next year.

PICTURE EXHIBIT
IN THE LIBRARY

Twelve Paintings Loaned to University by Dominion Art Gallery for One Year

On President Tory's invitation the directors of the Dominion Art Gallery at Ottawa have sent to the University a selection of pictures from the national collection. This is in the nature of a permanent loan. The pictures will remain in the University for at least a year, and may afterwards be replaced by others. They are hung in the reading room of the Library, where they are well lit both by day and in the evening.

These twelve pictures are representative of various phases of Canadian landscape art. One canvas has figures and landscape; another is a large still-life study; the others deal simply with effects of light on land or sea. The greater part of the work belonged to Quebec. Six of the artists represented were born in that province and most of them had their art training in Montreal. In nearly every case that training was supplemented by work in Parisian ateliers. Direct evidence of this is seen especially in the canvases entitled "Study in Rose and Green," "Winter Sunrise," "The Settlement on the Hillside," and "An Ontario Farm." The rich colour-scheme of Ivan Neill's "October Pastoral, Cap Rouge," though a Canadian subject shows the effects of the artist's training in Scotland. The farm might easily be in Meams or the north of Ayrshire, and painted by Brownlie Docharty or one of the Henderson brothers. No less than four of the pictures are winter subjects, but this is not so much a climatic influence as a technical problem. It has been said quite truly that snow is never white, and the difficulty of painting the effects of light and atmosphere on snow is always a challenge to a painter. The difficulties have been tackled with varying success in these canvases. The treatment of the theme in "Hunters Returning with Their Spoil" will no doubt make this a very popular picture. Those who visited the recent "Group of Seven" exhibition will find interest in J. E. H. Macdonald's "Asters and Apples" painted in 1917. This artist has had no less than six of his works purchased by the Trustees of the National Gallery at some time or other. The other Toronto artists are Miss F. H. McGillivray, A. H. Robinson, P. F. Woodcock, and Miss M. E. Wrinch. Miss McGillivray's contribution is in water-colour, the only example of that medium in the group. For those who have been unable to visit Eastern Canadian galleries this is a good opportunity to become acquainted with the character and attainments of contemporary art. The examples here shown have been purchased by the Trustees of the Ottawa Gallery and so have the stamp of official approval. There are other canvases, such as those of Tom Thomson, Varley, Gagnon, in which one would like to see in some future loan, but in the meantime there is enough here to form a basis of appreciation of the progress of art in Canada.

"MOODS AND EMOTIONS IN MUSIC"

The speaker at the Philosophical Society meeting in Convocation Hall Wednesday evening at eight o'clock will be Vernon Barford, with an address on "Moods and Emotions in Music." This address concludes the Public Lecture series of the Philosophical Society for the season. The address is also fitting as coming at the close of the series of concerts of the Edmonton Symphony Orchestra, in which students this year have taken more than usual interest.

Mr. Barford is one of Edmonton's leading musicians, and is well known as instructor and leader of the orchestra and glee-clubs in past years. The feature of his address should thus prove doubly attractive, as Mr. Barford will illustrate his remarks by selections on the piano.

Special invitations have been sent to various men's and women's clubs in the city, and students are urged to accept this announcement as an invitation to what promises to be an entertaining and instructive evening.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The last of the University Sunday services for this term will be held on March 25th, when the speaker will be Prof. A. L. Burt. Mr. Burt will speak on the subject of the League of Nations. He has a very impressive story to tell of the remarkable achievements of the League, in spite of the difficulties that have beset it, and gives good reason for the belief that it is a practical hope for the peaceful co-operation of nations in the future.

PHILOSOPHICAL SOCIETY

Through an error, notices of the two remaining meetings of the Society have been sent to members at the same time. The dates of the meetings are indicated on the cards, but in order to avoid confusion, the Secretary wishes to indicate through the columns of The Gateway, the speakers' subjects and dates of remaining meetings. These are:

March 21st, 8.15 p.m.—Mr. Vernon Barford will speak on "Moods and Emotions in Music."
April 4th, 4.30 p.m.—Prof. E. Sonet will speak on "Voltaire and His Times."

There was excitement around the dental lab. when it was announced about the smash-up at Lard Lake. Nifty having had the horse hung on him this time.

Juniors Win In The Annual Indoor Track Meet

Class '24 Trackers Have Fine Afternoon in Armouries

Juniors 55½, Frosh 47, Sophs 34½, Seniors 24.—Frosh Girls Make 41½ Points

MISS CLEMENTS—33 POINTS

Page Runs Good Race to Win the Two Mile.—Ferguson and Barker Tie with 10 Points Each for Men's Title

At the Annual Inter-faculty Track Meet held in the Armouries Saturday afternoon the Juniors turned the trick and carried off the shield for this year, chalking up 54½ points. Class '24 had the edge on all the teams. The Freshies followed second with 47 points, the Sophs next with 34½ and the Seniors with 24.

The feature of the meet was the showing made by Miss Clements who annexed the girls' championship and incidentally made 33 of the Frosh's 47 counters, or 33 out of a possible 35. The Frosh girls made 41½ points, besides helping to gather in the odd 3 more in the mixed relay.

Harold Ferguson and Stan Barker tied with 10 points each for the men's title, Ferguson taking two firsts in the two sprints, while Barker did the same in the 600 and 1000 yard events.

In the open relay the Varsity had an easy race with the team from the McDougall High School. In the standing broad jump Mr. Sheppard, holder of the Canadian record, made several trial jumps. Sheppard is an ex-Alberta man.

One of the surprises of the meet was sprung when Roy Page nosed Strothers out for first place in the two mile run. Page ran a heady race for the entire distance and took the lead from Strothers in the last lap.

Several new men were uncovered for the track team in the fall. Osterland showed up well in the high jumps, also Savage and Irish Wally. Leppard was there all the time in the sprints.

Results

First—Juniors, 55½ pts. Girls, 21½; Boys, 34.
Second—Frosh, 47 pts. Girls, 41, Boys, 35.
Third—Sophs, 34½ pts. Girls, 4; Boys, 30½.
Fourth—Seniors, 24 pts. Girls, 1; Boys, 23.

GALE AND COHEN WIN IN CALGARY

Varsity Battlers Capture Finals in 115 and 158 lb. Classes

The Varsity battlers, Hank Gale and Bernie Cohen, came across with wins in their classes in the Finals for the Provincial Championships, held in Calgary Thursday and Friday last week. Against the best in their classes in the province, the Varsity mitt men showed their superior ability and brought the titles north.

Bernie Cohen forced McNabb of Western Canada College to the limit and took the decision in the 115 pound bunch. Both men put up a good battle, but Cohen's speed and ability to use either mitt bothered the College lad.

Hank Gale was at home in Calgary and gave his fellow townsmen a treat in the way he handled H. Hollands of Calgary. Hollands had previously knocked out Gordon, the Varsity graduate. This was in the 158 pounders. Hank used a neat right and gave a great exhibition of boxing.

The battlers returned Saturday morning.

VARSITY BRONKS LOSE TO MONARCHS

Good Hockey at S. S. Rink When Rival Ladies' Teams Battle

2-0 COUNT FOR MONARCHS

Miss Young Gave Great Exhibition in Goal.—Ex-Varsity Girls on Monarchs' Line-up

The Varsity Girls' hockey team lost in a close game at the South Side rink Wednesday evening to the Monarch Ladies by a two to nothing count. Considering the length of time since both teams had been on the ice, some fast hockey was dished up and the few fans who made their way to Jimmy Smith's ice palace were kept on their toes for 60 minutes.

Both teams started out for a win. After about ten minutes of end to end play Miss Robertson got away for the Monarchs, fooling Miss Young from a scrimmage in front of the goal. Varsity took the play for the rest of the period but were unable to find the help.

In the second session the Monarchs got their remaining tally when Miss Moore shot from outside the defense, the puck went in, bounding off Miss Woods' skate.

The third period gave some fast hockey to the crowd, though neither gang were able to count. Ruby Woods was rushing well for Varsity, but had tough luck in shooting.

For the Varsity, Miss Young played her usual game in goal and was stopping them like a pro. She showed that she was the best in the line of goalkeepers in ladies' hockey in this province. Ruby Woods played a good rushing game. Ruth Becker was burning up the odd ice during her stumblings and was in the play all the way. Betty Mahaffy turned in her usual heady game, and did some Duke Keats stick handling.

Verna Moore was the best on the ice and skates a mean skate. Her sister Hazel, late of the Varsity, did the fine work on the wing. Teena McQueen, also of the old Varsity squad, was the stone-wall defense. Miss Robertson was good for the Monarchs.

Ralph Greenway did the job as referee while Scotty Parks collected about six bucks at the gate.

Line-up
Varsity—Young, Woods, Woods, Becker, Mahaffy, Caswell, Simpkins, Hobbs.

Monarchs—Carrigan, Moore, McQueen, Moore, Robertson.

Dentals Capture Inter-Faculty Title and Cup

Second Win 5-0 Gives Them 11-2 on Round Over the Science Aggregation

PYPER, LEPPARD AND WILLIAMS SHINE

Herbie Carlyle Works Beautiful Hook Check on Science Forwards Breaking Up Rushes Repeatedly

Showing the same class of hockey that has taken them through the season undefeated, the Dentals captured the Inter-faculty Hockey title when they took the second game of the play-off from the Science by a five nothing count.

Every man turned in a good game for the Dents. Alfred Townes was unbeatable in the hemp. Tommy Carlyle claims publicity for using his deadly hook check to advantage on Lawton. Wunk Williams was in rare form and forgot the hikes for the afternoon, while he netted one of the tallies. Manager Pyper donned the outfit for the afternoon and had a gala day with two counts. Maxwell Crawford assisted on three scores. Gibby Gibson was the demon on the blades.

Lawton was in his usual form and did the big end of all the Science rushes. Hansen was kept busy in goal, but had tough luck on some hot ones.

The Dentals tore into the game from the bell. Manager Pyper forgot that they had a four goal lead and went right in after the rubber. Teaming up with Max Crawford, the pair did the trick on Hansen for the first goal. A few minutes later

Pyper got away and chalked up his second score.

In the second spasm Science tightened up and Williams had his hands full dashing through for the Dents' third score. In this session Alfie was tearing off the great saves.

Leppard chalked up the remaining two counters for the Dents in the last session on some classy combination with Crawford. Science was working hard but could not solve the stonewall defense of Williams and Carlyle.

Referee Wintemute handled the game. Alex. Law acted as score keeper, time keeper and sport scribe. Louis Coupez goal judged at both ends.

Line-up

Dentals—Townes, Carlyle, Williams, Leppard, Crawford, Pyper, Gibson.

Science—Hansen, Stuart, Cundal, Lawton, Fraser, Mceod, Lee, Noullette.

The chemistry department of the University of Washington, in Seattle, has just perfected a blasting powder that is said to be much superior to dynamite. It is composed of a mixture of wood sawdust and ammonium nitrate and costs only from 4 to 6 cents a pound to manufacture, whereas the ordinary dynamite products cost from 12 to 15 cents. The new product is non-freezing and slow acting, the latter quality being of particular value in stump blasting.

DENTISTRY

Extractions

The Inter-faculty hockey series is all over now and the Dental team stands out in the footlights better than ever. It is a credit to the smallest faculty here that its team should go through the entire season without having lost one game. The game on Friday night was like a big league game, every player making a star of himself. The forward line was working like clock-work, and the defence like a stone wall. Alfie Towne in goal played well, stopping some hot ones and thus giving the Science the goose egg. The total score for the series was 11-2, showing that the Dental team had no strenuous opposition at any time. We want to thank all those who in any way contributed to our success this season and feel sure they were amply repaid by the efforts of the team.

"SCANDAL"

At the New Empire
This is a comedy in which a young girl caught in an innocent predicament announces her marriage to a young man as a means of explanation. He plays up to his part and the result provides one of the best laughter plays of the season.

Enid May Jackson as Beatrice Vanderdyke is exceptionally good. She is supported by Marvel Phillips as Honoria Vanderdyke, Marguerite Klein as Mrs. Brown, Robert E. Lawrence as Pelham Franklin and Allen Strickfaden as Malcolm Fraser.

An added attraction this week is a Fashion Parade put on by the Hudson's Bay Co. between acts.

"WHY WIVES GO WRONG"

Metropolitan

The Metropolitan Players stage their farewell show in Edmonton this week, and with their offering "Why Wives Go Wrong" will be more than favorably remembered by the scores of Edmontonians who have weekly enjoyed these players in their splendid offerings.

The play this week is in keeping with the high standard achieved and one leaves the theatre with a feeling of something to think about.

Miss Jane Aubrey is at her best and carries her heavy parts in a perfect manner. James Cootes playing opposite to Miss Aubrey does the best work of his career. Ivy Bowman and Taylor Bennett fill their roles satisfactorily, while Griff Barnett is in fine form as the money-grabbing station agent. Jack Martin carries two parts, one of a home-brew husband and the other of a moralizing stranger.

any excuse for him that he wished—might say he was deaf if he liked.

Gontran was left alone, and when Blanche entered, he found that she was a charming young lady. They discovered a common friend, which made them feel at home in each other's company. Blanche persuaded him to stay to dinner and Raoul was brought in. Much to his chagrin he was forced to pretend deafness and to listen to his friend making love to the lady who was destined to have been his. Before the end of the meal, however, he betrayed the fact that he was not deaf, and offered his hand in marriage. Blanche now played deaf and turned to Gontran.

The part of Blanche was very charmingly taken by Helen Carswell, while Helen Boyle gave a good representation of the sprightly, French maid, Adele, and Jack Gerrie made a very amusing servant. Both Bob Mitchell and Hugh Boyd played their parts well, doing splendid character portrayal. The members of the cast were all students in second year French and Prof. Sonet, who directed the play, is to be congratulated on the excellent pronunciation and easy stage manner of all the characters.

is a regimental sergeant-major of the C. O. T. C. should be a good recommendation for him.

FOR "LIT" SECRETARY

Ted Gowan

Ted Gowan, the president of the Senior year, is well known for the active part he takes in all student organizations. He has been on year executives, he has often performed on the stage, both in English and French plays, and he is a runner of no mean calibre. The Gateway has often accepted his contributions, and his services have been claimed by other departments of student life in the University. Ted possesses the necessary qualifications to make an efficient secretary.

Frank Newson

A few days ago, on "Lit Night," the students had the pleasure of listening to the Mandolin and Guitar Club, which has a comparatively large membership this year. The success of the club is largely due to the efforts of its president, Frank Newson, candidate for the secretaryship of the Literary Association. Frank is one of the leading lights in the Students' Parliament and at one time was Minister of Finance in the Provincial Boys' Parliament. He is now a member of the "Lit" executive, and advertising manager of the Year Book.

FOR PRES. OF ATHLETICS

Hugh Teskey

Hugh Teskey is specialising in Economics, but this does not prevent him from taking an important part in Athletics. His stronghold is basketball. During his first year in the University the House League championship went to the team he captained. The following year he made a place in the intermediate team and since then he has been the star defence man on our senior team. He has played rugby for his faculty and has represented the University in track events. Hugh has held executive positions in Athletics. He has been a member of the Athletic Association, secretary of the Athletic Association, and member of the Students' Council. For the past two years Hugh Teskey has been one of the most efficient contributors to The Gateway. Hugh has the proper experience and point of view to make a successful President of Athletics.

Andy Wilson

In the world of music, cheer-leading and association football one man does stand out. He is Andrew Wilson, a Medical student. Because of his energy and willingness to serve his fellow students, Andy has been before the public eye ever since he entered the University of Alberta. He has successfully captained football teams and acted on the executive of the Soccer Club. Last year he was the Med Club secretary and now he appears before the student body as candidate for the presidency of the Athletic Association.

FOR SECRETARY OF ATHLETICS

Angus McDonald

The present secretary of the Soccer Club, J. Angus McDonald, has been elected by acclamation as Secretary of the Athletic Association. Before coming to us Angus held many executive positions in the U. of S. He was president of his year he was on the athletic directorate and treasurer of the Swimming Club. This year he is a member of the Med Club executive. Angus is a rugby as well as a soccer player. He has also displayed much ability as a stage actor. The students made no mistake in electing him as their Athletic Secretary.
